

A Canadian adventure- Ski touring with snow planes in the wilderness of British Columbia

10 days we will ski tour while flying over one of earth's most impressive and wild regions, the coastal range of Canadian British Columbia. Located at the midst of the Canadian Coastal Range on the shores of an alpine lake at 1600 meters above sea level the Nuk Tessli Hut (built in 1991) is a wilderness lover's paradise.

With numerous ski touring possibilities and 3,000 meters high glaciated summits- there isn't a dull moment and no end to the exploration possibilities.

The hut- that will be our home for our visit- is fully equipped and has a sun terrace as well as a hot tub to relax sore muscles after a long ski touring day in the wilderness.
